

GIGCHR

Foldable Perching Seat

The GIGCHR Foldable Perching Seat from ErgoVerse is an ideal solution when a portable temporary seat is required. The folding design makes it easily portable (it weighs under 19 lbs). The integrated fold-away footrest also lets users adopt a more comfortable and practical posture, as in the case of musicians such as guitarists. Public speakers who wish to have a greater rapport with their seated audience can employ this for a more relaxed and personal presence.

The seat, backrest, and footrest can all be adjusted along the upright column so each user can fine tune the GIGCHR to what they personally find most comfortable. A hand turned knob locks each component in place where desired. The seat and back of the GIGCHR are padded for comfort and upholstered in black imitation leather for easy cleaning.

The GIGCHR also has 2 available accessories that can be mounted to the upright column - a convenient folding beverage holder and a guitar stand (Double Adapter Mounting Accessory required)
